

Telemental Health Informed Consent Form

I understand that I have the following rights with respect to telemental health:

(1) I have the right to withhold or withdraw consent at any time without affecting my right to future care or treatment nor risking the loss or withdrawal of any program benefits to which I would otherwise be entitled.

(2) The laws that protect the confidentiality of my medical and mental health information also apply to telemental health. As such, I understand that the information disclosed by me during the course of my therapy is generally confidential. However, there are both mandatory and permissive exceptions to confidentiality, including, but not limited to reporting child, elder, and dependent adult abuse; expressed threats of violence towards self, and/or an ascertainable victim; and where I make my mental or emotional state an issue in a legal proceeding. I also understand that the dissemination of any personally identifiable images or information from the telemental health interaction to researchers or other entities shall not occur without my written consent.

(3) I understand that there are risks and consequences from telemental health, including, but not limited to, the possibility, despite reasonable efforts on the part of my psychotherapist, that: the transmission of my medical or mental health information could be disrupted or distorted by technical failures; the transmission of my medical or mental health information could be interrupted by unauthorized persons; the electronic storage of my medical information could be accessed by unauthorized persons; and/or limited ability to respond to emergencies. In addition, I understand that telemental health-based services and care may not be as complete as face-to-face services. I also understand that if my therapist believes I would be better served by another form of psychotherapeutic services (e.g. face-to-face services) I will be referred to as a therapist who can provide such services in my area. Finally, I understand that there are potential risks and benefits associated with any form of psychotherapy, and that despite my efforts and the efforts of my psychotherapist, my condition may not be improved, and in some cases may even get worse.

(4) I understand that I may benefit from telemental health, but that results cannot be guaranteed or assured.

(5) I understand that I have a right to access my medical and mental health information and copies of medical records in accordance with United States federal Laws and jurisdictions.

(6) I understand that my therapist may need to contact my emergency contact and/or appropriate authorities in the event of an emergency. I understand it is my responsibility to also seek appropriate emergency services such as 911 and/or local crisis services if I am experiencing a mental health crisis. I agree to inform my therapist of the address where I am located at the time of the session.

(7) The professional or primary therapist may in turn terminate such help when he/she understands that it is not beneficial and/or necessary or refers me to another specialist for a more appropriate follow-up. In case of transfer of communication styles and possibly conflicting emotions during the therapeutic and counseling relationship, the therapist and counselor will stop the follow-up processes and will be appropriately referred to another professional of your choice. Any information provided by me will be confidential and will be disclosed to others only with my prior consent, except if it would endanger my life or the lives of others, or in accordance with the laws governing federal statutes and laws in each State and jurisdictions.

I have read and understand the information provided above. I have discussed it with my therapist, and all of my questions have been answered to my satisfaction.
